

Arapyaú's agenda at COP30

The Arapyaú Institute

is attending the 2025 UN Climate Change Conference (COP30) with the goal of highlighting Brazilian climate solutions and strengthening debate and concrete actions, primarily on three fronts: bioeconomy, agrifood systems, and forest restoration. In keeping with the spirit of the conference, which is known as the COP that calls for a major global “mutirão” for climate action, Arapyaú aims to foster cooperation to scale initiatives that can generate real impact in the territories.
